The District of Saskatchewan.—Town of Prince Albert.

We this week present our readers with a set of illustrations of the Town of Prince Albert, together with a few quotations with reference to the Northwest and the Saskatchewan district from McPhillips' Directory, lately issued from this office. To give anything like a clear idea of the extent of the Northwest generally, making comparisons with other countries. It then refers to the Saskatchewan District, giving its area, treating of its natural advantages—timber, hay, soil, etc.; the cattle and other industries, together with a table showing the development of industrial establishments since 1885, which we reproduce below. Sketches are given of the history of Prince Albert, Battleford, the French Settlements, Saskatoon, Carrot River and other places. From it we learn that Prince Albert was founded in 1886, St. Laurent in 1873, Battleford in 1874, and Saskatoon in 1883, the two former before the C. P. R. was commenced. Mr. McPhillips also indulges his poetic talent in a "Song of the Saskatchewan," which we give below, and which would do credit to a man of greater pretensions and advantages. Those who take an interest in the Saskatchewan country should not fail to secure a copy of the Directory, which may be had for $1 at this office.

Qu'Appelle is the station on the C. P. R. from which the whole Prince Albert country is supplied with all commodities that have to be imported, and a big trade is carried on direct from here by our merchants.

Speaking of the Northwest generally Mr. McPhillips says:—

The total area of the three provisional districts into which that portion of the Northwest lying south of the 55th parallel of latitude has been divided, and of which the Hon. E. Dewdney is Lt.-Governor, is 310,000 sq. miles, nearly all of which is suitable for settlement, and large areas are rich in timber, minerals and grazing lands. Besides this there is a vast extent of territory lying to the north, including Athabasca, as yet almost unknown, of which large areas will doubtless be found to be equally rich in timber, minerals, and well adapted for settlement.

Hon. David Laird, of Prince Edward Island, was the first Lt.-Governor of the Northwest Territories, having been appointed on the 7th of October, 1876. Lt.-Col. Richardson (now Chief Justice Richardson), the late Matthew Ryan, and Lt.-Col. J. F. McLeod (now Judge McLeod), Stipendiary Magistrates, together with the Lt.-Governor, comprised the first Northwest Council. A. E. Forget was appointed Clerk of the Council, which position he still holds, and Battleford was chosen as the seat of Government. The first session of the Council was held at Livingstone, Swan River, in March, 1877. The second, third and fourth sessions were held in Battleford, the latter in May and June, 1881.

On the 3rd of December, 1881, the Hon. Edgar Dewdney succeeded Mr. Laird as Lt.-Governor and the seat of Government was removed to Regina. The fifth session of the Council was held in Regina, commencing on the 20th of August and ending on the 4th of October, 1883. A session has been held each year since.

The first member of the Council who was chosen by popular vote was Lawrence Clarke, Chief Factor of the Hudson's Bay Co., Fort Carlton, who was elected to represent the District of Lorne (Prince Albert) on the 25th of March, 1881. Since then the elected members have gradually increased, and the necessity for the establishment of responsible government has become so pressing, that the boon is almost certain to be granted at the next session of the Dominion Parliament.

When we consider the vast extent of the territories, the comparatively brief time that has elapsed since they became part of the Dominion, and make allowances for the difficulties of opening them up, it must be admitted that their progress has been unprecedented in the history of America. True, the credit of the country has been drawn upon in anything but a gingerly spirit in order to develop them, but the result so far has been, as was expected, to greatly strengthen all the resources of the Dominion, while the future will not fail to convince more than ever all Canadians of the wisdom of acquiring the Northwest Territories.

The Canadian Pacific Railway has, of course, been the great colonizing agent. Without it settlement would have been impossible, and the Northwest would have remained almost as it was. It, however, is but a very indirect assistance to the development of the Saskatchewan country, the best portion of the Northwest. Indeed, but that we are Canadians, and hold national paramount to provincial interests, we might not scruple to complain of its having turned the tide of immigration away from us. It is to be hoped, however, that the government of the Dominion will take steps to secure as railway communication in the near future, not only with the east, but with Hudson's Bay. To this latter the commerce of the Saskatchewan country should flow as naturally as do the waters of the great river from which it derives its name. By the opening of this route also the whole Northwest would be brought into closer commercial relationship with the Old Country. In the words of Punch,

"Here is our Empire route,
A right way whose value waits to compute
Would tax the Prophets!"

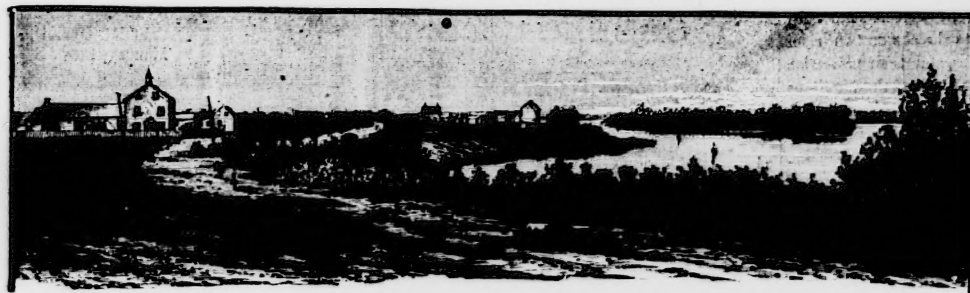

No. 1.—The Central Portion of the Town of Prince Albert, looking north.

The above view is taken from the brow of the hill to the south of the Town and overlooking the valley. To the north of the town, upon which fronts River street, is the North Saskatchewan, a view of which is given in No. 3. The portions of the view on the lower right and left corners are the eastern and western ends, the former showing the H. B. Co. post and other buildings in the dim distance, and the latter T. N. Campbell's and T. J. Agnew's stores. Immediately this side is the residence of Sheriff Hughes. Following the river front from left to right you pass the principal business places. On the right of where the view is taken from, and not shown in this view, is the Courthouse, to the left the new Barracks. The population of the town is about 800. Its yearly trade is greater than that of any place in the Territories, the fur trade alone amounting to about $50,000 a year. The town contains about 200 buildings, a number of which are brick. Its location is charming, and its general appearance homelike.

No. 2.—St. Anne's Convent, formerly the residence of Hon. L. Clarke, Chief Factor of the H. B. Co.

The above building is situated on Third street, immediately west of the residence of Thos. McKay and to the left, or south, of the cluster of buildings shown in No. 3. This view is taken from the north-east. About half a mile farther south-west, on the brow of the hill, is situated the new Police Barracks. The gentleman with the staff, followed by his faithful Touser, is our artist.

No. 3.—Town of Prince Albert, looking west.

The above view is taken from the bank of the Saskatchewan river to the left of view No. 1. On the right is the North Saskatchewan, which at this point flows due east. The first building on the left is the Roman Catholic mission. The next is the residence of Louis Schmidt, assistant Dominion Lands Agent. To the right of River street and between it and the river is a cluster of buildings the centre of which is the store of Charles Mair. Among them is the Crown Timber office, the residences of Mr. Mair, Mr. Kennedy and Mr. Coombs, Thos. McKay's large storehouse and Jas. Sanderson's sawmill. About half a mile beyond and to the left (not given in the above view) stands the cluster of buildings which, in the early days, sprung up on the Porter estate. Still farther on, and to the left, are St. Mary's church, Emmanuel College, and the residences of Mrs. McLean, Thos. Swanston, Ven. Archdeacon Mackay and Rev. Canon Flett.

SONG OF THE SASKATCHEWAN.

I spring from the mountain's rugged side,
From its snow-capped turret I leap,
And through forests and prairies wide
For three hundred leagues I sweep.

With the warmth of the summer sun
I break from my prison of snow,
And I leap, I dance, and I run
As on, on to the east I flow.

Through stately trees in serried ranks,
That seem upon all sides to frown;
By Edmonton, whose lofty banks
And pleasant homes look proudly down.

Past Clover Bar, Saskatchewan,
Victoria—past of quietly named—
And Pitt, where gallant men were drawn
To quell rebellion's bloody flame.

By the Lone Land's first capital,
Fit footstool for an earthly king;
Great in its youth, proud in its fall,
Trusting in time its victory to bring.

Past Carlton where, in days gone by,
The hunters gathered with their canoes,
And native revelry ran high
Among the children of the plains.

By Prince Albert, pride of the North,
Nestling closely beneath the hill
From whose summit Justice' looks forth
With Power; to bend man to its will.

Past A la Poudre, past Cumberland,
Now close confined onward I sweep,
Now into a lake quickly expand,
Then down Grand Rapids wildly leap.

Mingling my waters with the tide
Ever swelling that northern sea
Whose outlet is the ocean wide,
Whose ports to untold wealth the key.

I know not the moment when first
The sun's rays my fetters unbound,
And forth from the mountains I burst,
And through the broad valleys I wound.

But this much I know, that I reign
Of north-western rivers the king,
And from forest, and mine, and plain
Vast wealth to the east I will bring.

The lords of the forest shall fall
And the mines shall yield up their store,
With the one man raise high his hall
And the other garnish it o'er.

*Battleford. *Courthouse. *Barracks.

I'll bring of the husbandman's gain
From the fertile fields of the land
A rich store of its golden grain,
And vast wealth of its golden sand.
And the herds that feed on the plain,
And the sheep that revel and feast,
I will bring in my winding train
To the crowded marts of the east.
And towns and cities proud shall rise
Along the winding shores I lave
With waters that leap from the skies
And repel the touch of a slave.
I spring from the mountain's rugged side,
From its snow-capped turret I leap,
And through forests and prairies wide
For three hundred leagues I sweep.

H. T. McPhillips.

—The municipal council met on Saturday last. The minutes are held over till next week.

—The quarterly meeting services of the Methodist church here are postponed from the 13th to the 20th, when the services will be held at 11 o'clock.

—Last Friday afternoon the monthly meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Union was held in the school house. We purpose giving a full report next week.

—Rev. P. F. Langill is remaining in Winnipeg. After consulting a physician there who has succeeded well in throat diseases, he has decided to remain under his charge for a few weeks.

—Constable Ashe has been removed to Touchwood. He does not express a profound respect for Temperance people, but the Temperance people have a profound respect for every policeman who seeks to know and tries to do his duty.

—At the Leland: M. McManus, L. C. Macintyre, T. Hanover, J. Ripsten, A. M. Campbell, Winnipeg; J. S. Oliver, Prince Albert; J. G. Keown, C. Creamer, Regina; R. Crawford, Indian Head; Rev. J. Hugonnard, Fort Qu'Appelle; The Earle family.

—At the Queen's: H. Smith, G. G. Clements, Hamilton; P. Wallace, Fort Pelly; F. J. Smith, Winnipeg; R. W. Boyd, Calgary; A. W. Dagg, Regina; J. Borland and wife, Pheasant Plains; W. R. Craig, Brandon; W. E. Jones, Touchwood Hills; W. Wall, L. Leader, Toronto; G. H. Simpson, Montreal.

A public Temperance meeting will be held in the Methodist church next Monday evening under the auspices of the Royal Templars. A varied program will be presented. Addresses will be delivered by Rev. A. Andrews and Dr. Edwards, and there will be music, singing, readings, recitations and a dialogue. All are invited. A collection will be taken up to defray expenses.

—On Tuesday morning last a spark from the engine of a freight train going west set fire to the prairie about a mile and a half west of the town and a large extent of the country was burnt over before it spent itself. Some valuable bluffs just west of the College were destroyed. The law requiring every engine to be protected by a spark arrester should be enforced against the C. P. R.

—At a meeting of directors of the Agricultural Society on Friday last an offer of $10 was received for a prize for five washed fleeces of wool, the wool to be paid for at market price and sent to England as samples. We hope farmers will take notice of this and prepare wool accordingly of both long and short kinds, as there is no doubt that the wool produced here is of first-class quality and should attract the attention of wool buyers to the country.

—Mr. R. Crawford, M.N.W.C., will have a fire-guard made around the town, and will be here on Saturday next to let the work. The fire guard is to be twenty feet wide and not less than three and a half inches deep, commencing at the point where Edwards street intersects the C. P. R., following said street north to Seventh avenue, thence west to Chatham street and thence south to the C. P. R. All scrub and roots are to be well grubbed out. The ploughing is to be done in a workmanlike manner, to the satisfaction of Messrs. A. M. McLane and G. H. V. Bulyea, with whom applications may be left.

—A meeting of the Directors of the South Qu'Appelle Agricultural Society was held on Friday last when it was arranged to hold the regular monthly meeting of directors on the 3rd Saturday in each month. A letter was read from Mr. L. D. Little offering $10 as a prize for the best five washed fleeces of wool to be shown at fall show, the same to be bought at market price and sent to England as a sample. The directors accepted the offer and sent their thanks to Mr. Little. A committee was appointed to revise the rules and regulations for the show and prepare prize list. The directors present were Messrs. Gordon, Bulyea, Milne, Davidson, Skinner, Murphy and Redpath, sec-treas.

—Mrs. Guerin's second lecture and readings given on Tuesday evening were, if anything, more interesting than the first, and certainly seemed to take the fancy of the audience more. We were sorry to see so few people present as those who were there were highly edified, especially at the way a scene from Nicholas Nickleby, by Charles Dickens, was read, or one might almost say acted by Mrs. Guerin, the characters being so vividly brought before the audience. This and Tennyson's May Queen were the two best pieces of the evening, though all the others were well rendered. On Tuesday next Mrs. Guerin intends to sing some songs as well as read in order to vary the program. Go early and enjoy a pleasant evening.

To the Editor of The Progress,

SIR: I beg to call the attention of our citizens, through the medium of your paper, to the fact that some unprincipled parties have recently been felling trees on the Townsite, and to ask their co-operation and assistance to protect the same. The preservation of the timber which forms a special feature of attraction to our Town, is a matter of concern to the community as well as to the proprietors. The foliage is moreover especially beneficial from a sanitary point of view as it absorbs to a great extent the noxious gases arising from sloughs or decomposing vegetation. I trust that any person, who may be in a position to give such information as will enable me to prosecute an offender in this matter, will do so. Thanking you for the space.

Yours, etc.,
LESLIE GORDON.
Agent for Townsite Trustees.

REGINA.

—Mr. D. L. Scott has announced himself a candidate for the local legislature.

—The police have been capturing some illicit whiskey lately. They are none too active in that line.

—A requisition asking Mr. John Second to become a candidate for the legislature is in circulation for signatures.

—The school board are wisely looking to the future. They have purchased ten lots on the corner of Eleventh avenue and Hamilton st.

—The executive committee of the North-West Prohibitory Alliance met on Saturday night, and after due discussion decided and arranged to hold Gospel temperance meetings every Sunday in the various churches, commencing in the Methodist church on Sunday next; hour, 16 o'clock to 16.45; speakers, Messrs. Atkinson, Smith and Burbank; chairman, Rev. G. Daniel. The second meeting will take place in the Presbyterian church on the succeeding Sunday, when Mr. Atkinson will take the chair, and the speakers will be Mr. S. A. Clark and the Presbyterian minister. The committee hope that a large attendance at these meetings will reward their efforts. After fixing the quarterly membership fee of the Alliance at 25 cents, and transacting other business, the meeting adjourned for two weeks.—Leader.

INDIAN HEAD.

—The municipal council meets next Saturday.

—The cricketers are preparing for the season's play.

—The Masonic Lodge met on Monday evening last.

—The herd law will come into force on the 15th inst.

—The Bell Farm Co. have seeded about 2,000 acres this spring.

—The citizens are arranging to have their cattle herded in one herd.

—Major Bell has been doing some fine shooting lately. His rifle speaks and down comes the bird.

—A prairie fire has been raging the past few days south of here in the direction of the Indian reserve.

—The farmers have about finished seeding, and are very hopeful for a good crop. The ground never received the seed in finer condition.

—What is the health inspector doing? The filth seems to be in no haste to meander away from the stables and back yards in town.

—Mr. Moore's bakery is proving to be quite an important addition to the town. Besides bread, cakes, etc., he keeps a choice stock of confectionery.

—Superintendent McKay is not permitting the grass to grow under his feet. He has sown a large variety of seeds and is now busy directing the planting of numerous kinds of shrubs and trees on the experimental farm. About ten hands are employed on the farm.

—A petition is being circulated for signatures among the ratepayers for presentation to the municipal council asking that a bylaw be submitted to a vote of the electors for the purpose of granting a bonus to secure the operation of the flouring mill. It will likely be presented to the council at the meeting on Saturday.

THE GOPHERS.

Mr. W. D. Perley, M. P. for East Assiniboia, is endeavoring to obtain a grant from the Dominion Government to aid in exterminating the gophers in the Northwest Territories. He has received the support of the various agricultural societies, and it is hoped that he will succeed. The municipalities and settlers are unable to overcome the pest, and it is necessary that the Dominion should come to the rescue of the pioneers of the country if they want them to succeed in developing the grand possibilities of our magnificent soil and climate.

Mr. W. D. Perley interviewed Hon. Mr. Costigan relative to the proposed new grading of Manitoba and Northwest wheat. After a lengthy conversation the Minister decided to ask the boards of trade of Winnipeg, Toronto, Montreal and Port Arthur to send delegates to Ottawa on the 15th inst., to discuss the whole matter with him, to which meeting the Manitoba and Northwest members will be invited, and it is expected that a satisfactory basis of classification will be arrived at.
